1st RACE

Trainer Ernest Haynes sends out his first starter of the season and it looks like he's found a good spot for #5 Cerebral. Haynes claimed the 7YO gelding for $10,000 out of a race at his primary track, Charles Town, on March 15. Running first off the claim, Cerebral was stepped up the class ladder and caught a muddy track at Mountaineer Park. He's in a $5,000 claimer tonight, but won't run for the tag. His toughest competition figures to come from #3 One King's Man, running second off the claim for cagey conditioner Karl Broberg, and the Oaklawn Park "stranger danger" #6 Zimmerman, who gets leading rider Alex Birzer tonight.

6th RACE

This race kicks off the Late Pick 4 sequence and it includes another well-spotted runner for trainer Ernest Haynes. #5 Chief Of Staff is another recent claim for the owner/trainer, out of a March 2 runner-up try at Charles Town. Like barnmate Cerebral, the 7YO ran first off the claim at Mountaineer Park and had the misfortune of catching a muddy track. That said, he was gaining late and finished third, one length behind the winner. It looks like a tough race on paper, though, as all the other runners have back races that put them in the thick of it.

8th RACE

With jockey Ramon Vazquez back in the "first call" saddle for owner Danny Caldwell and trainer Federico Villafranco, look for #1 Drip Brew to be tough at the distance from the inside post. The 5YO mare won sharply first off the claim and seems well-placed for another victory. #2 Serious I Candy is a threat with her best, and #6 Ornamental Iron seems to be on an "in and out" pattern. If the pattern repeats itself, this could be her night to win again.
